ner Miller's manifesto disclaiming any intention on his part of joining the anti-Platt crusade was received with considerable amusement by members of the Legislature.

The Platt men were disposed to accept it seriously, but the independents expressed the belief that Mr. Miller would be due to issue another manifesto in about a month from without the breastworks of the Platt camp.

It is intimated bere that Mr. Miller knew the purpose of the alleged anti-Platt meeting which he attended, but for reasons best known to himself at present he sees fit to deny it.
